

Mount Mercy

ALUMNI, DONORS,
AND FRIENDS

As I reflect on the vibrant energy of the 2024–25 academic year, my heart is full of gratitude. Together, we navigated a transformative season marked by milestones that will shape Mount Mercy's future.

This year, we launched a new era for Mustang athletics—announcing the addition of football, welcoming a head coach who brought more than 60 new Mustangs to the Hill, and breaking ground on the Busse Football Center. We advanced our historic collaboration with St. Ambrose University, earning Phase 1 combination approval from the Higher Learning Commission and drawing national attention for our innovative approach. And throughout campus, our students excelled—earning honors in the classroom, competing with heart in athletics, sharing their talents through music, and serving our community in ways that live out our Mercy values.

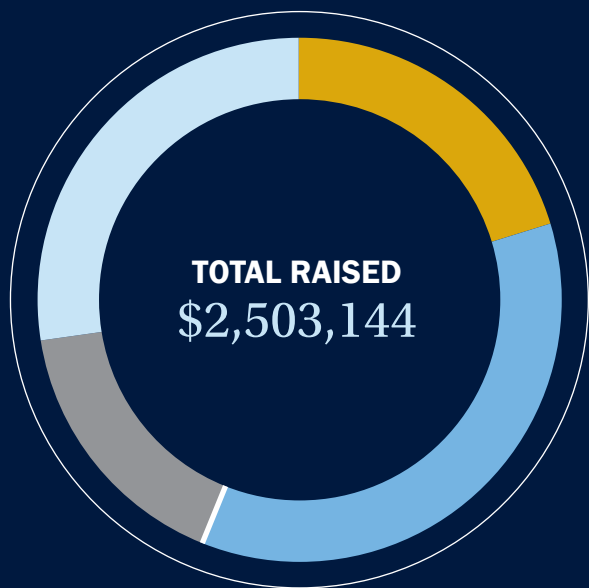

Most importantly, we faced opportunities and challenges side-by-side, always guided by our unwavering commitment to our university and our students.

To everyone who cheered, gave, served, and prayed with us this year—thank you. Your belief in Mount Mercy lifts our campus and widens the pathway for new programs, partnerships, and possibilities that strengthen our Catholic mission.

I look forward to continuing this good work with compassion, courage, and conviction... and with all of you.
