There are many moments throughout the day that make me recall with gratitude our friends and supporters who consistently help make Mount Mercy a place to live, work and grow. I see it in the faces of our students, I hear it in the voices of our faculty, and I participate in it through the growing renovations and facilities on campus. And while it is a thankfulness that crosses my mind many times throughout the day, it is always an honor to formally address you, our supporters and community members, every year in a public testament to the impact your work has had in our daily lives at Mount Mercy.

Never underestimate the power of many individual missions coming together for a single cause. It is a force that has seen change throughout history, and it continues today on the Hill. This last fiscal year has seen such transformation that is yet unmatched in our institution’s history — and it is a change that was brought about by the belief and support of countless individuals who allowed their personal missions to fall under Mount Mercy’s mission.

Every year, I am amazed at the accomplishments we have achieved in 12 short months. And every year, I am humbled by the quiet strength of the countless friends who come along beside us in allegiance to our calling. Your belief in that mission enables us to drive forward with renewed vigor every day.

With your support, we have more students than ever before entrusted to our care, stunning new facilities to support campus community and growth, brand new sites dedicated to the growth of our graduate programs, vibrant learning environments with state-of-the-art technology, and so much more. And that is but the tip of the mountain — the greatest contribution is the continued support of our friends and neighbors.

Sir Isaac Newton once said, “If I have seen a little further it is by standing on the shoulders of giants.”

It is a quote I share often with our faculty and staff because its words never cease to inspire me. For we truly have broad shoulders to stand on, and we are seeing farther now than we have ever seen before. Your support makes that vision possible. Thank you.

Godspeed.

Christopher Blake
President
In 2010–11, 2,447 donors contributed $604,286 to the Mount Mercy Fund and other unrestricted funds, which directly help students and ensure the strength and growth of Mount Mercy University. In the last five years, donors have provided more than $3.5 million in support of the University’s areas of greatest need, including scholarships. The Mercy ideal of service to others is embodied in the compassionate way the Mount Mercy community contributes annually to these vital funds.

During Mount Mercy’s spring and fall phonathon campaigns this past year, 42 percent of the alumni and parents reached participated with a pledge or gift to the Mount Mercy Fund. In total, the phonathon raised $168,049, with an additional $8,660 in matching gifts, from 2,097 contributors.

Employee contributions to Mount Mercy are a true endorsement in the mission and promise of Mount Mercy — because they are made by the people who know the institution the best. This year 119 faculty and staff members — or 51 percent of all regular employees — made gifts to the University.

Online giving to Mount Mercy more than tripled this past year. More than 100 alumni and friends contributed $18,231 via the Mount Mercy giving site in 2010–11. It’s easy to make a gift online — just visit www.mtmercy.edu/giving

Mount Mercy received three estate gifts, totaling $21,793. In accordance with the donors’ wishes, these funds were directed to the Grotto renovation, the Mount Mercy Fund and facility projects on campus. We thank these generous donors (see listing on page 26) who chose to leave a legacy on the Hill by including the University in their estate plans.

During the 2011 fiscal year, $48,733 was received from 39 companies through corporate matching gift programs (see listing on page 26). Matching gifts often are available to employees and their spouses, board members and retirees. Ask your Human Resources department if your employer offers a matching gifts program, which can double or triple the impact of your gift.

Area companies that have worked with Mount Mercy for decades often make in-kind gifts to the institution. This year, 17 companies made in-kind gifts valued at $18,579.

Nine contributors made their gift to Mount Mercy through donor-advised funds at the Greater Cedar Rapids Community Foundation. These contributions, totaling $136,133, provided funding for the new University Center, scholarships, the Grotto reconstruction, library acquisitions and the Mount Mercy Fund.
Carver Trust supports new lab, scholarships

A $125,000 grant from the Roy J. Carver Charitable Trust helped renovate lab space in Basile Hall and created the new Undergraduate Research Laboratory. The new lab, which opened in Spring 2011 with state-of-the-art equipment, provides students even greater opportunities to pursue faculty-mentored research projects. “Our students now have the opportunity to learn different experimental techniques, which can be applied to millions of scientific hypotheses,” says Assistant Professor of Biology Alesia Hruska-Hageman, Ph.D.

The Carver Trust also continued its longtime support of Mount Mercy students by providing $15,200 this year in Named Scholarships.

Iowa College Foundation extends tradition of student support

The Iowa College Foundation (ICF) continued its five-plus decades of support for Mount Mercy students, with $42,546 in scholarship funding.

This year, Mount Mercy received $14,191 from the ICF’s unrestricted fund for student financial aid, as well as $7,760 from ICF’s “Let’s Keep Iowa Students in Iowa” program.

More than $20,000 was received from specific ICF scholarship funds, including those of James M. and Betty J. Camp; Vera Mayer; Pioneer/George Washington Carver and Henry A. Wallace; Prairie Meadows; Principal Financial Group; Charles Stephenson Smith; UPS; U.S. Bank; Westmar; and Carlton and Thelma Winter.

Golf Classic raises $40,000

Celebrating its eighth year, the 2010 Mount Mercy Golf Classic raised more than $40,000 for Mustang athletics. This year, 32 teams of business supporters, alumni, trustees and friends enjoyed the fun at Hunters Ridge Golf Course. The ESCO Group was the presenting sponsor for the eighth consecutive year.

Mount Mercy trustees Michele Busse and Barbara Knapp teamed up with Janice Charles and Mary Keane at the eighth annual Mount Mercy Golf Classic in September 2010.
McElroy program funds two research projects

Two Mount Mercy faculty-student pairs received grants for research projects from the R.J. McElroy Student/Faculty Research Program, which is administered by the Iowa College Foundation.

Assistant Professor of Biology Alesia Hruska-Hageman, Ph.D., and Joseph Zach '14, a biology major from Cedar Rapids, received a $2,000 grant to examine the interaction between two proteins, PICK1 and LRF. Studying these interactions will help scientists learn more about the role PICK1 plays in learning and memory, as well as diseases such as cancer and schizophrenia.

A $1,900 grant allowed Professor of Biology Neil Bernstein, Ph.D., to continue his research on the threatened ornate box turtle. This year Bernstein collaborated with Samantha Frost '13, a biology major from Gilbertville, Iowa, who analyzed data in a GIS program. Frost's work informs recommendations given to the Iowa Department of Natural Resources, as well as establishing a baseline for further research on this project.

The McElroy program helps students develop close apprentice-mentor relationships with professors. Students and sponsoring faculty share the outcomes of these research projects at an ICF-sponsored symposium each spring.

Heritage Club welcomes 16 new members

Mount Mercy welcomed 16 new Heritage Club members this year. Nine individuals qualified for membership by establishing new endowments, including Martha Barry '74; Dr. Chirantan and Sima Ghosh; Carol Grimminger; Bert and Suzanne Katz; Mary LoVerde '75; Pat Corkery Marschel '75; and Dr. Jane C. Meyer '82.

Another seven individuals included Mount Mercy in their estate plans: Anonymous (2); Mary Ann Barry; Steve and Carol Doser ’90 ’90; Hilery Livengood; and Susan Portz Stamats ’65. The Heritage Club recognizes individuals who have included Mount Mercy in their estate plans or who have made a significant gift to the institution’s endowment.

Donors support Mustang athletics

More than 200 donors made contributions totaling $11,590 in support of Mustang athletic teams, including baseball, cheerleading, cross country/track, men’s basketball, men’s golf, softball, women’s basketball and the Mustang Athletic Club. Private support supplements the athletic operating budget and allows the Mustangs to operate programs with full schedules.

Shirley and Roger Cropper, shown here with Dr. Sue Oatey, Vice President for Enrollment and Student Life, are longtime Mustang fans. During the 2010-11 academic year, they contributed more than $2,000 in support of Mount Mercy’s golf and cross country/track programs.
Class, lecture made possible by Thaler Fund

The Thaler Holocaust Memorial Fund once again provided financial support for Mount Mercy to offer “The Holocaust,” a popular honors class, during the January term. The course was team taught by Assistant Professor of History Allison McNeese and Assistant Professor of English Christopher DeVault to capacity class enrollment.

The Thaler fund also supported the annual Holocaust Lecture in the Chapel of Mercy, a campus tradition for more than a decade. Elaine Geller, a survivor of the Bergen-Belsen death camp, spoke to a large crowd on April 6.

Library collection expands through donations

The Holocaust section in Mount Mercy’s library grew significantly this year when alumna Kathy Dowd Ulrich, who received her bachelor’s degree in 1976 and a Master of Education in May, donated 156 books, one video and nine journals from her personal Holocaust collection. Ulrich, who taught Holocaust classes for many years and was a Museum Teacher Fellow for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, donated the books in honor of Emeritus Associate Professor of History Jay Shuldiner, who inspired Ulrich’s scholarship in that field.

The Busse Library was the beneficiary of other philanthropy as well. Fifteen donors provided $3,580 toward general library acquisitions, and the Library Bookplate project raised an additional $1,110 for library materials.

Endowment nets $675,000 thanks to federal grant

A five-year federal program that ended in September 2010 infused more than $675,000 into Mount Mercy’s endowment. Mount Mercy donors created 16 new endowment funds at the University, supporting a wide range of areas – from scholarships and the library to the Students in Free Enterprise program. The Title III Strengthening Institutions grant matched every contribution dollar for dollar, thereby doubling each donor’s personal contribution.

Approximately one-sixth of the $1.8 million grant was dedicated to building the Title III endowment at Mount Mercy. The remainder, some $1.46 million, supported technology purchases for new and revised curriculum in the nursing and computer science programs.

Second Katz endowed scholarship established

Bert and Suzanne Katz continued the Katz family’s legacy of support for Mount Mercy. This year they created the Bert & Suzanne Katz Endowed Scholarship, which provides financial support to worthy and deserving students. An endowed scholarship that honors Bert’s brother and sister-in-law, Henry and Sara, was established at Mount Mercy in 2001 through a gift from their estate. Bert and Suzanne Katz also provided $25,000 for the new University Center.
Gifts help restore Grotto

A $5,000 estate gift from John J. Bush supported Mount Mercy’s Our Mother of Sorrows Grotto. Those funds, along with ongoing support from the Ken and Ortha Harstad Fund at the Greater Cedar Rapids Community Foundation and the Art Club, are helping fund preservation efforts. The University continues its efforts toward a comprehensive restoration of the iconic Grotto, which was built from 1929 to 1941 and once attracted as many as 700 visitors a day.

Annual scholarships continue tradition of support

Mount Mercy’s Named Scholarship program is a long-standing tradition on the Hill. Companies and individuals who contribute $1,000 or more name annual scholarships that are awarded to Mount Mercy students. This past year, nearly $200,000 was contributed through the Named Scholarship program, including the following generous scholarships of $2,500 or more:

- Clifford M. & Ruth M. Altermatt Scholarship
- Roy J. Carver Charitable Trust Scholarship
- DTK Scholarship for Veterans
- Ruth Lester Engelhardt Scholarship
- May G. Gortner Charitable Trust Scholarship
- GreatAmerica Leasing Corporation Scholarship
- International Paper Scholarship
- Dr. James & Sherrie Justice Scholarship
- McIntyre Foundation Scholarship
- Rockwell Collins Scholarship
- Rohde Family Foundation Scholarship
- Rob & Rachel Sartin Scholarship
- Schimberg Co. Scholarship
- Barbara Sedlacek Scholarship
- United Fire Group Scholarship

Knapp lecture focuses on “Leading Iowa Forward”

Elliott G. Smith, executive director of the Iowa Business Council, was the keynote speaker for the annual Barbara Knapp Endowed Business Lecture Series in February. He delivered a lecture titled “Competitive Blueprint for 2025 — Leading Iowa Forward.” Barbara Knapp, a member of the Mount Mercy Board of Trustees, created the endowed lecture series to bring speakers to campus who speak on business-related topics that will benefit students.

Student game room named for longtime supporter

Maxine E. Welch made a $50,000 commitment to the new University Center, and in recognition of her generosity, the Student Game Room in the first floor of Regina Hall will be named after her. Maxine and her husband, Ted, who passed away in 1996 and served for many years on Mount Mercy’s Board of Trustees, have an endowed fund at Mount Mercy that supports campus technology (see related magazine article on page 9).
Alliant Energy funds assistive technology

The Alliant Energy Foundation provided a $3,500 grant to purchase assistive technology for Mount Mercy’s Academic Center for Excellence. A portion of the grant funded new software purchases that help struggling writers organize concepts and structure papers. Alliant’s grant also provided new portable audio equipment that allows students with hearing impairments to fully participate in lectures and speeches.

Trustee continues support for Andreas House, technology

Mount Mercy Trustee Martin L. Andreas continued his longtime support for both the Andreas House and technology needs on campus. The Andreas Charitable Lead Uni-trust provided $170,090 for Andreas House, the residence facility that’s home to 144 juniors and seniors. The Solon-Andreas Foundation provided $5,000 to fund classroom computer equipment and software upgrades (see related magazine article on page 9).

Scholarshare team helps students

Scholarshare is a popular program at Mount Mercy that engages volunteers to approach their peers in the business community for financial support in the form of Named Scholarships.

Under the leadership of Robert Hackney ’81, the 2010–11 Scholarshare campaign generated more than $94,000. With 35-plus dedicated volunteers making a targeted effort over a short period of time, this program yields amazing results each year. The funds raised go directly to students at Mount Mercy in the form of scholarships.

Former neighbor provides five $5,000 annual scholarships

Business and nursing students are the beneficiaries of a generous contribution from Ruth Altermatt. Her gift of $25,000 will provide five worthy students a $5,000 Clifford M. & Ruth M. Altermatt Scholarship. Ruth is a former neighbor of Mount Mercy and has fond memories of walks through campus and the Sisters of Mercy’s apple orchard, which was located in the area where Hennessey Recreation Center now stands.
New endowed scholarship to help education majors

Martha Barry ‘74 established the Ray & Helen Barry Endowed Scholarship (Title III) to honor her parents and provide scholarships for upperclassmen majoring in education. Martha and her sister, Mary Ann Barry, both have included the scholarship in their estate plans.

High school athletes benefit from new scholarship

Dr. Jane C. Meyer ‘82 established the Jane C. Meyer, Ph.D., Endowed Academic Scholarship (Title III) to provide financial support to female students who competed in interscholastic sports. Jane was a four-year starter and captain for the Mustangs basketball team.

Alumnae honor their mothers with new scholarship

Two 1975 nursing graduates, Mary Schulte LoVerde and Pat Corkery Marschel, collaborated to create an endowed scholarship in honor of their mothers. The Lou Schulte- Lois Corkery Endowed Scholarship (Title III) is designed to provide scholarships for worthy and deserving students whose major is nursing, with preference given to students from Mediapolis High School in Mediapolis, Iowa, or Don Bosco High School in Gilbertville, Iowa.

Transamerica supports University Center, scholarship

Transamerica continued its support for Mount Mercy students and facilities with two gifts. The company pledged $300,000 to the new University Center. In recognition of the gift, the second floor corridor has been named the Transamerica Corridor. Transamerica also made a $15,000 contribution to the Transamerica Endowed Scholarship, one of two endowed scholarships the company established at Mount Mercy in the 1990s.
Kirkland honored with new scholarship

After 31 years of teaching biology, Professor Will Kirkland, Ph.D., retired in May 2011. He leaves a legacy of impacting countless students with knowledge that extends well beyond textbooks. The Mount Mercy Board of Trustees bestowed Kirkland with the honor of Professor Emeritus and created the Dr. Will Kirkland (Dr. K.) Endowed Scholarship in his honor. More than 50 alumni, colleagues and friends also contributed to the scholarship, which will be awarded to second-, third- or fourth-year students who plan to pursue careers in a healthcare field.

New endowment bolsters student research

Students interested in conservation, survey of organisms, natural history and environmental management are the beneficiaries of a new endowment established by Dr. Chirantan and Sima Ghosh. The Anna Purna Ghosh Endowed Fund (Title III) will allow students to learn first-hand by conducting research and biological surveys on land owned by the Ghosh family near Palisades Park (see related magazine article on page 5).

Rinderknecht, ESCO provide facility support

Two in-kind gifts from longtime Mount Mercy vendors supported facility projects on campus. Rinderknecht Associates, Inc. continued its long history of support with $5,000 toward renovation of Warde Hall’s first floor, where a student lounge, classroom and a number of offices were updated and expanded. Rinderknecht also supported the Mount Mercy Fund and was a sponsor for the Golf Classic.

ESCO Electric Company’s in-kind gift supported improvements for University Center, including several security upgrades. University Center is the renovated and new space that bridges McAuley and Regina halls.

Tschirgi Fund continues support for Linn students

The Tschirgi Scholarship Fund continues its legacy of generosity to Mount Mercy students. This year, the Fund contributed $11,916 for annual scholarships. In four-plus decades of support, the Tschirgi Fund has provided nearly $400,000 in scholarship support for students who are Linn County residents.
Families continue support for endowed scholarships

Many families who have established endowed scholarships at Mount Mercy made additional contributions to those scholarships this past year, further increasing the impact of each scholarship on worthy Mount Mercy students. Our thanks to the following families for their ongoing contributions of $2,500 or more:

• George and Dawn Axon Bazarko ’85 for the Glenyce Axon Endowed Scholarship (Title III)

New scholarship helps veterans

Students who are veterans are the beneficiary of a Named Scholarship established by Shirley and Dean Kent ’79. The DSK for Veterans Scholarship will fund two $2,400 scholarships for students who also qualify for GI benefits. A veteran himself, Dean wanted to provide scholarship support for Mount Mercy students who had served their country.

Sisters of Mercy support new sustainability projects

New sustainability efforts on campus — along with Campus Ministry and volunteer and leadership programs — benefited from a $50,000 grant from the Sisters of Mercy West Midwest Community.

The Sisters of Mercy grant will help fund the creation of a plan for a carbon-neutral campus, as well as appointing two faculty members as Sustainability Education Fellows. On-campus events during Mercy and Mission Week, as well as the Multicultural Fair, are made possible by the grant. The grant also supports service-learning trips to increase students’ knowledge and understanding of the poor and disabled and to learn from them through service.

Sr. Shari Sutherland, Executive Director of Mercy Mission and Identity, with Sr. Marilyn Lacey, founder of Mercy Beyond Borders. Sr. Marilyn gave the keynote lecture during Mercy and Mission Week in September 2011 and encouraged attendees to “be attentive. God comes to us in the people we meet — you’d be surprised where God is hiding.” Events during Mercy Week were funded by a grant from the Sisters of Mercy West Midwest Community.
Since 1928, Mount Mercy has sought to provide students with both access and excellence.

The University’s Named Scholarship program, a decades-long tradition, plays an important role in making a Mount Mercy education accessible to students of all backgrounds and means.

Through the Named Scholarship program, alumni, parents, friends and employees may offer a public tribute to a beloved family member, professor or friend. Named Scholarships are available to those making an annual gift of $1,000 or more in support of student financial aid.

Every donor has a personal motivation for giving: a story to tell, a legacy to extend. Here are the stories of three donors who provided Named Scholarships during the 2010–11 academic year — Tammy Clemenson Koolbeck ’86, Linda and Don Kulish, and the late Scotty McIntyre.

Tammy Clemenson Koolbeck ’86

Tammy Koolbeck’s relationship with Sr. Mary Augustine Roth began in the classroom, when as a student Koolbeck struggled to identify and declare a major. The two women made a lasting connection, however, that continued long after Koolbeck’s graduation from Mount Mercy.

“She never wavered in her confidence that I would succeed even after I graduated,” says Koolbeck of Sr. Augustine. “I didn’t find a job in my major for a few years after I graduated and she continued to give me encouragement. She taught me patience and not to be satisfied until I knew I had given my best effort. Now I have not only a career but a passion for my work.”

Today, Koolbeck honors her “no-nonsense, witty” mentor with an annual gift to create the Sr. Mary Augustine Roth Named Scholarship. Sr. Augustine, a beloved English professor who taught at Mount Mercy from 1948-1996, is credited with starting the University’s major in Public Relations, the field in which Koolbeck majored.

Koolbeck and her family have given for three years in order to assist worthy and deserving students in honor of Sr. Augustine. “It’s a tangible acknowledgment of her passion for higher education and for her students,” says Koolbeck. “She would probably be embarrassed and then excited to know that she was still involved in making a difference in the lives of Mount Mercy students,” Koolbeck says.

Don and Linda Kulish

When a tragic cycling accident took the life of their son, Matthew, in 1993, Linda and Don Kulish of Swisher knew what they wanted to do. In honor of Matthew, who graduated from Mount Mercy three months prior to his death, they established the Matthew Kulish Memorial Named Scholarship to enable worthy and deserving students of meeting their goal of attending Mount Mercy. The Kulishs have contributed the Named Scholarship for 14 years.

“Matt always helped people, and we felt that this [setting up the scholarship] was what he wanted us to do,” says Linda. “It was a way to honor him.”

Matthew, a psychology major who wanted to go on to earn a master’s degree and had a love of research, was known as a fun-loving, people-person. “He had a good head on his shoulders,” says Linda. “His goal was to take care of us when we’re old.” Melody Graham, Ph.D., acting provost, was a psychology faculty member when Matthew was a student, and remembers him fondly. “I remember him to be inquisitive, thoughtful and enjoyable to work with,” she says. “He liked to ask tough questions and enjoyed a good discussion.”

Now Matthew’s legacy is to assist worthy students in reaching their goals. Each year as the Matthew Kulish Named Scholarship is distributed to a worthy and deserving student, Linda and Don receive a reminder of Matthew: a note of appreciation from the student recipient. “It’s a good feeling to know that we can do something in Matt’s memory,” says Linda. “The students always send a thank-you note, and it’s so nice to hear from them.”

McIntyre Foundation and United Fire Group

Scotty McIntyre was a proud son of Cedar Rapids, and remained committed to the city until his death in 2009. As a child growing up with cerebral palsy, he didn’t let the disease hamper his drive. When his father founded United Fire Group in 1946, Scotty worked his way up the corporate ladder, with stints in the postal office. He ultimately served as president from 1966-1997 and as CEO from 1991–2000. Under his leadership, United Fire Group grew — and remained staunchly committed to being an independently owned and locally headquartered company.

McIntyre believed fiercely in giving back to a city that had afforded him opportunity and friendship, and he gave selflessly as an individual citizen, as the face of United Fire Group, and on behalf of the McIntyre Foundation. Today, the McIntyre Foundation contributes $10,000 toward Named Scholarships and the United Fire Group also funds $10,000 for Named Scholarships for worthy and deserving students.

“He contributed to institutions that had deep roots in our community, and Mount Mercy was key among those,” says Dee Ann McIntyre, Scotty’s widow. “As a corporate citizen he felt it was his civic duty to give back. Giving was in his blood.”

McIntyre’s generous contributions to Named Scholarships have provided students with financial support, and the students are thankful of his now-posthumous gifts. “I have been getting thank-you notes from Mount Mercy students,” says Dee Ann. “I keep them. The young people are so enthusiastic, and it is wonderful that they take time to write.”

Gifts to the Mount Mercy Fund support every student by bridging the gap between the cost of providing a quality Mercy education and tuition, which covers only 70 percent of the actual cost. The Mount Mercy Fund supports leadership programs like STEPS – Striving Toward Engaged and Purposeful Servant-Leadership. These freshmen were inducted into STEPS in January 2011.

There is no such thing as a small gift.

Every gift matters. Every dollar donated to the Mount Mercy Fund has a direct effect on the lives of Mount Mercy students.

Unrestricted dollars support every student by bridging the 70 percent gap between what tuition covers and the actual cost of providing the quality Mercy education that each student deserves.

More than 97 percent of all Mount Mercy students receive some financial aid made possible by annual donations to the Mount Mercy Fund. In 2010–11, the University awarded $7.8 million in student financial aid. The Mount Mercy Fund provides support for scholarships and financial aid. It gives the University the resources to build on our success and grow for the future.

For those donors with a specific interest in scholarships, a contribution of $1,000 or more allows the opportunity to name a scholarship in honor or memory of an individual or business and even designate the basic criteria for which the scholarship is awarded!

Whether you have a dollar, ten dollars or ten thousand dollars to donate, we’ve made it so easy to give!

- Online: Give securely online at www.mtmercy.edu/giving
- By mail: Simply mail a check payable to Mount Mercy Fund to: Mount Mercy University 1330 Elmhurst Drive NE Cedar Rapids, Iowa 52402
- By phone: Contact a Mount Mercy representative at (319) 368-6468. We can take your credit card information.
- By email: Send a message to giving@mtmercy.edu and we’ll be happy to answer any questions.

Feel free to phone or email us to arrange a personal appointment or campus tour.

Remember, no matter what the size of your gift, you can make a difference in a Mount Mercy student’s life. Every gift helps today’s dreams become tomorrow’s realities!
Mount Mercy University

Mount Mercy’s endowment provides valuable financial support for the current and future needs of the University. A strong endowment is a perpetual source of funding for student scholarships, faculty support and key programs and initiatives on campus – whatever use is designated by the donor.

Unlike annual contributions, endowment funds are invested to provide steady amounts of spendable income over time. A portion of the annual income generated by the endowment is used each year to support the scholarship or program designated by the donor.

The Board of Trustees determines what percentage shall be distributed every year. For fiscal year 2011, the University trustees approved a 4 percent distribution.

2010–11 highlights

In fiscal year 2011, the Mount Mercy endowment:
- Added seven new named endowment funds — six scholarships and one funds supporting student research — for a total of 182 named endowment funds.
- Distributed $801,935 for scholarships and programs, as designated by donors.
- Earned a 21.8 percent return on investment.
- Ended the year with a fair market value of $23,476,019

Growth

At the end of fiscal year 2011, Mount Mercy’s endowment stood at $20.9 million, compared to $19.6 million the previous year. The one-year return on the endowment was 21.05 percent for fiscal year 2011. The average annual compound rate of return for the three- and five-year periods was 2.7 percent and 4.3 percent respectively. Since 1990, Mount Mercy’s endowment has returned 7.8 percent.

Investment objective

The long-term objective of the University’s investment policy is to achieve consistent annual earnings of 7.5 percent per year. These earnings support the purposes designated by endowment donors, while also providing for growth in the fund’s principal.

Investment oversight

Mount Mercy’s Board of Trustees, with guidance from its Finance and Investment Committee, oversees the University’s endowment funds. The University employs Hammond Associates, a private investment consulting firm, to manage the funds.

New endowments

If you are interested in creating an endowed fund in support of scholarships or other programs on campus, please contact Hilery Livengood, Director of Major and Planned Gifts, at 319-368-6468 or hlivengood@mtmercy.edu.
