

How do I find a specific literary journal in EBSCO?

Step One: Select “MLA Directory of Periodicals” from the masthead (blue stripe) in the MLA International Bibliography.

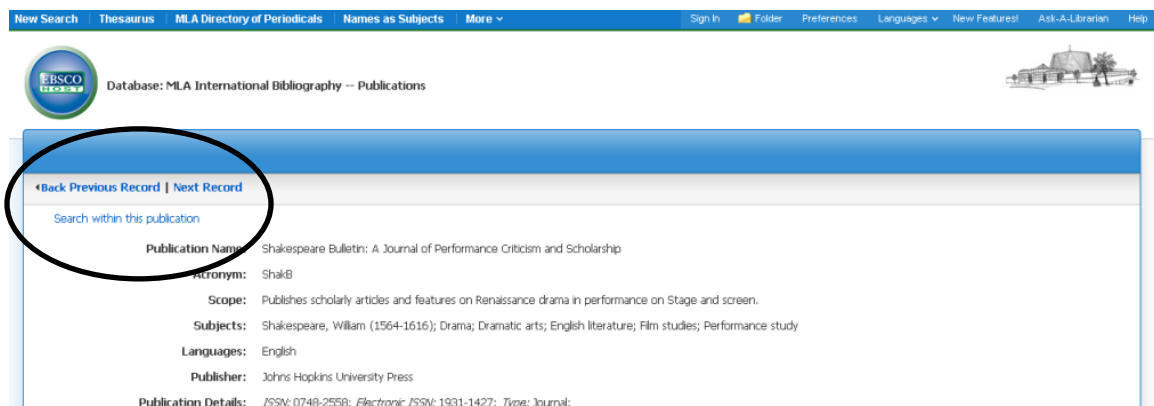

The screenshot shows the EBSCO search interface. The masthead (blue stripe) at the top contains the following navigation items: New Search, Thesaurus, MLA Directory of Periodicals (circled in red), Names as Subjects, and More. Below the masthead, the search area includes a search box with the text "Searching: MLA International Bibliography", a "Choose Databases" dropdown menu, and a "Search" button. There are also "AND" search options and a "Clear" button.

Step Two: Insert a publication’s name into the search field. Subject searches are also available. Choose the correct publication from the resulting list; each journal is shown with holdings information and text formats.

The screenshot shows the EBSCO search results page for the query "shakespeare". The masthead is the same as in the previous screenshot. The search results are displayed in a list format. The first result is "Shakespeare (Shakespeare)", which is circled in red. Other results include "Shakespeare and Renaissance Association of West Virginia-Selected Papers (SPWVSR)", "Shakespeare Bulletin: A Journal of Performance Criticism and Scholarship (ShakB)", and "Shakespeare criticism (ERIC)".

Step Three: Select the journal’s title to see its full record. Select “Search within this publication” to find articles only from this journal.

The screenshot shows the EBSCO full record page for the journal "Shakespeare Bulletin: A Journal of Performance Criticism and Scholarship". The masthead is the same as in the previous screenshots. The record details are displayed in a table format. The "Search within this publication" link is circled in red. The record details include:
